

NatSCA News – Subject Index

A Guide to Insect Collections in the British Isles	15/43
A New Method for the Restoration of Palaeontological Specimens mounted in Canada Balsam	14/28
A Preliminary Investigation into using Tyvek ® bags for Short-term Storage as a means of Protecting Herbaria from Damage by Insect pest such as Stegobium paniceum	11/10
A Sustainable Future for Collecting?	12/26
Adult education as a tool for volunteer training and recruitment	6/30
AAM Position Statement on University Natural History Museums	2/24
Another Update on Computer Printer Inks and Papers for Internal Labeling of Fluid Preserved Specimens	15/36
Application of GIS to IPM risk zone mapping	6/31
Aren't Birds Brilliant	15/21
Bags of fun – Sachau o Hwyl!	10/15
Basic Biochemicals	11/27
Beautiful bits that bob: redisplaying John Hunter's collection in the 21st century	9/22
BCG Trip – USA: February 17th -24th 2003	1/40
Biological Recording and Natural Science Collection Workshops	10/22
Book Review - A Short History of Nearly Everything	2/39
Book Review - British and Irish Pug Moths	2/38
Book Review - Edward Gerrard & Sons: A Taxidermy Memoir	6/53
Book Review - Merchant Rex: A guide to the restoration of antique taxidermy specimens	9/52
Book Review - Rowland Ward, Taxidermist to the World	2/41
Book Review – The Echalaz Bird Collection	14/57
Botanical spirit collections	9/2
Building & Relocating A National Museum	1/14
Burton Birds	10/4
Call for Information – Broad-headed Snake enquiry	7/22
Call for Information - Erecting a database of known UK Sphenodon (Tuatara) material	5/34
Call for information – George Wombwell's Travelling Menagerie	7/23
Call for information – How do you use yours?	8/5
Call for Information – Is there a Zanzibar leopard in your collection?	7/22
Call for Information – The first Emperor Penguin egg	7/24
Changes in Conservation - Experiences at Manchester & Within The UK	1/5
Choosing a Microscope Slide Sealant: A Review of Aging Characteristics and the Development of a new Tes, Using Low Oxygen Environments	12/4
- Addendum (13/10)
Cleaning dusty feathers, a technique that works!	4/32
Cleaning Natural History Material with Lasers	2/28
Climate control in an uncontrollable building	6/32
Collecting Life: Field Collecting Littoral Marine Animals for Museum Collections	15/33
Collection Survey: Linking observation to cause across disparate collections	4/20
Collections and Partnerships in Birmingham	15/24
Colouration and Fading: How do Pigments become Degraded or Altered by Light and their Environment	11/44
Conservation at the Horniman - new for Old. Applying standards to new and historic galleries	6/27
Conference - Personal View: No Pain, No Gain (2003)	1/33
Conference - Personal View: Dublin AGM (2004)	3/38
Conference - Posters and Snippets of Information (2005)	6/46
Conference - Personal View: An Overview (2005)	6/35
Conference - Personal View: A Jamaican participant's perspective (2005)	6/36
Conference - Personal View: June 12th to 18th (2005)	6/37
Conference - Personal View: A Personal View (2005)	6/39
Conference - Personal View: Overview of Tuesday, June 14th (2005)	6/40
Conference - Personal View: The NatSCA Sessions - Wednesday 15th (2005)	6/48
Conference - Personal View: Tours of Botany and Zoology (2005)	6/50
Conference - Personal View: A Tale of 2 Standpoints (2006)	9/46
Conference - Personal View: A Personal View (2006)	9/49
Conference – Personal View: Report on the NatSCA Conference 2008	15/30

NatSCA News – Subject Index

Conserving Lightfoot's Algae	9/6
Conserving transparencies	8/12
Conservation Education for Reflective Practice & Public Advocacy	3/4
Conservation of a foetal elephant's hind limb, Cole Museum of Zoology, Reading University	5/21
Conservation of the 'Great Bass Rock' diorama – an ICON internship	14/20
Conservation of Sir Hans Sloane's Collection of Vegetables and Vegetable Substances	2/25
Convergence – A Factsheet 3/60
Course on Fluid Preservation at Oxford University Museum of Natural History	9/7
Darwin Centre and beyond – access to collections and access to ideas at the Natural History Museum	9/26
Decant, Recant, Decant: A Moving Experience	1/8
Developing a Collections Centre in the Partnership with a Specialist Supplier	15/18
Digestion of Tissue by Invading Fungi: Questions and Mechanisms	11/47
Displaying the Undisplayable	9/38
Dismantling, painting and re-erection of an historic cast of the dinosaur Iguanodon in the Sedgwick Museum, Cambridge	14/41
Documentation of the Bolton Museum Fredrick Reign Mollusc Collection	13/4
Endangered Species in glass: the Blaschka models	8/10
Ethics and Authenticity in Natural History Exhibits: the Public wants what the Public gets	11/21
Evolution & public display: an historical perspective	3/24
'Feeling Good': a new approach to displays	9/24
Future of Natural Science in the context of a large regional museum	3/13
Giving the people what they want: Meeting Zoology Collections with their Audiences; A Case Study	11/5
Glasgow Botanic Gardens Tour: Friday May 16 th 2008	15/26
Glass Eyes and Turning Down the Heat: a note to the NatSCA Seminar Jan 2008	15/4
Harnessing Natural Talent	14/49
Haslemere Educational Museum: An Introduction To The Natural History Collections	6/51
Hatching a Plan: Developing modern standards in egg collections	6/27
How Have Natural History Collections in Case Study Museums in Southwest England Evolved in Terms of Display and Interpretation	13/22
How to Accommodate a Whale: Manx National Heritage's New Natural History Gallery	10/8
Human Tissue Act 2004 – Problems with Small Institutions: Museums	9/9
Human Tissue Authority - Notes From The Public Display Seminar (22.6.06)	9/8
ICOM NatHist Meeting Jacobstad, Finland 14th – 17th June 2005	6/11
ICOM Seoul	5/32
INP Table Ronde, Grande Glaerie d'evolution, Paris December 2006	12/41
Inspiring Action	9/11
Inspiring Secondary School Science	10/16
Integrated Pest Management Workshop	6/44
Introduction To The British Historical Taxidermy Society	8/9
Introduction To The British Historical Taxidermy Society - pt 2	9/51
Iowa Issue: Organismal and Environmental Biology	2/17
Japanese Tissues; Uses in Repairing Natural Science Specimens	7/8
Kelvingrove's new natural science displays - ten years in the planning	9/32
King's Library Project	3/43
Leeds Collections on Display	12/33
Linnaean Tercentenary	3/58
Life and Times of Tineola bisselliella in the Collection Store (reprint 6/2)	4/25
Macedonian Magic	7/16
Maintaining Support for Herbaria in the 21st Century	2/20
Making Collections Count: Natural Science Collections and Biodiversity

NatSCA News – Subject Index

Conservation	12/36
Making Progress through Partnerships – examples of Public Engagement with Science through the creation of the Novel Networks	15/15
Mary Ida Roper & Her Herbarium	3/52
Minimising risks from 10 agents of deterioration in 2 new West Midlands museum resource centres	6/23
Minutes of the 2003 BCG AGM	1/22
Minutes of the 2003 NSCG AGM	1/24
Minutes of the NatSCA IGM, 2003	1/31
Minutes of the 2004 AGM	3/34
Minutes of the 2005 AGM	6/14
Minutes of the 2006 AGM	10/26
Minutes of the 2007 AGM	13/16
Minutes of the 2008 AGM	15/5
Mounted Bird Collection from the old Burton Museum	10/3
Museums Association – Collections Review: East Midlands Consultation Meeting	4/37
Museums, Visitors and Dinosaurs	10/25
Myco-herbarium at Hampshire County Council Museums Service: Storage and Preparation Issues	9/4
Nanoq — Flat Out & Bluesome	1/38
NatSCA Beginnings - a personal history	5/32
NatSCA Seminar at RBG Kew 17th November, 2005	7/18
NatSCA Seminar Anoxia Seminar at NHM.8 TH Nov 2007	14/8
Nat SCA Seminar at Lancashire Museums, 13 th Feb 2007	14/13
NatSCA study Trip to Sweeden – 19 th /20 th May 2006	11/17
Natural History Collections at Birmingham Museum & Art Gallery	2/31
Natural History Collections Working Group	1/20
Natural History Conservation Bursaries granted by HLF for Icon	9/54
Natural Sciences Conservation in the UK	1/42
Nature Detectives	11/9
New Ma At The NHM	3/59
NOOX3	2/35
Notes On Conservation Tests Of Failing Collembola (Insecta)
Micro-Slide Mounts	4/35
Ol' Yellow Belly – a problem with stoat ventral fur	4/31
Old Jar Sealants	12/20
One Year Secondment To Canada	2/12
Open Display & Handling Collections—A Conservation Conundrum	3/9
Overcoming Problems with Polyester Resin Blocks	10/17
Overview of the NatSCA Biochemistry Seminar	11/25
Palaeontological Casts in Collections and Museums in England:
Materials – A History of Use	12/23
Paradise at Kendal Museum	15/55
Plant Cultures: botanical collections and the celebration of British Asian heritage	3/16
Potter's Museum Of Curiosities	3/56
Preserving Waterlogged Wood with Sugar	14/26
PRISM Fund Supports Conservation and Purchase of Natural History Collections	15/42
Problems with lipid and fluid-preserved specimens	7/14
Procedures for preparation and conservation of whole insect permanent microscope slide mountswithin the Department of Entomology, The Natural History Museum, London	5/25
Procedures For The Preparation Of Whole Insects As Permanent Microscope Slides And For The Remounting Of Deteriorating Aphid Slides	8/15
Professional Insurance	1/37
Proposal on the development of a web-based Decision Making Model for the conservation and Restoration of fluid preserved specimens	4/2
Real World Science	15/20
Rediscovery of two Lost 19th Century Fern Books by Moore and Wallich	3/47
Redisplaying the Rotunda Museum	9/30
Regional Collections at Risk: Why funding stuffed otters and dried nettles is seen as an easy cut to make	6/27
Re-Housing the Hymenoptera Nest Collection at the NHM, London	13/2

NatSCA News – Subject Index

Removing pooled fat and mothproofing freeze-dried mammals by perfusion	4/33
Renaissance for the North East	15/12
Report from the National Council for Conservators & Restorers	2/30
Representing nature in museums: the roles of attitude and authority	9/41
Representing nature in museums: the roles of attitude and authority	9/44
Re-Source: The work of Renaissance and collaboration, within and beyond regional hubs	3/10
Reverend Philip Pearsall Carpenter (1819-1877)	3/40
Risk Assessment workshop at the The Natural History Museum	6/43
Risk zones for IPM: from concept to Implementation	6/31
Shipping and Handling of Natural History Specimens in Dangerous Goods: A US Perspective	13/7
Solving fungal problems in heritage collections	2/34
SPNHC conference 2003	2/14
SPNHC visit to the Horniman Museum	6/42
Spring Seminar of the Guild of Taxidermists	4/40
'Standardising' within a multi-disciplinary museum: How do the natural sciences collections fit in?	6/20
Street Safari	9/35
Squatters and Hitchhikers - keeping pests out of stores	1/18
Stuffed Animals are still in fashion! (Well for kids in museums anyway)	10/5
Subject Specialist Networks – developing an SSN for the natural sciences in the UK	6/20
Substances controlled under the Misuse of Drugs Regulations 2001	8/20
Summary of the tour of the Natural History Museum building	3/29
Target audiences and agendas	3/21
Taxidermy in Museums ... Is it Dead?	15/34
Teaching through objects: a user's perspective	7/2
The EYE Project: Environmental Recording in the Museum Context	12/38
The Historical Repairs of Butterflies and Moths from the Eighteenth Century Collection of William Hunter, University of Glasgow	12/15
The Insect Collection Managers Group (ICMG)	13/14
The Interpretation of Botany at Haslemere Educational Museum	10/11
The Impact of Frozen Tissue and Molecular Collections on Natural History Museum Collections	10/31
The Museums of Glasgow	15/27
The Nest Collections of the Natural History Museum & of the Hutarian Museum, University of Glasgow: Developing a UK Nest Collection Resource	14/51
The Scottish Fossil Code	15/41
The Stockholme Beetle [ Trogoderma angustum ] – A New Risk of Herbarium Collections	12/2
The Stockholme Beetle [ Trogoderma angustum ] – A new record	14/19
The Structures of Plant Tissues and the Effects of Drying and Fluid Preservation on them	11/38
The Thermo-lignum Pest Control Treatment	11/50
Threat to the Department of Botany at Knoxville	2/19
Transport of Dangerous Goods in Museums	3/57
Two GCG workshops: Marine Reptiles and Microfossils	2/32
Using DNA to verify sex and species identity of dried bird specimens; a tool for correcting specimen records	15/22
Victorian Natural History Galleries in the 21st Century - Keeping a Victorian Gallery Alive	3/26
Visitor perceptions of human remains and their wider relevance to Natural History	3/19
Voyage of Discovery: A new exhibition at North Lincolnshire Museum	4/14
Walter Potter (1835-1918) and his Museum of Curiosities	5/4
Werkgroep Behoud Natuurhistorische Collecties: working on group preservation of NH collections	3/28
What do people want from a Natural History Gallery?	9/15
Wildlife Crime Unite, West Yorkshire Police	15/14
William Hunter's Insect Collection and emerging descriptive taxonomy in the Eighteenth Century	4/8

NatSCA News – Subject Index

- Addition and Appendices	5/9
Working Group On The Art Of Taxidermy	8/11
Zinc Chloride in Liquid Preservation	11/2